ORMONDE'S RUGHT THE VICTOR

L SYDNEY PAGET'S COLT WINS THE CARRER HANDICAP.

"Twenty-five Thousand Persons Attend the Opening of the Racing Season at Aqueduct-Oaklawn a High Class Twc-Year-Old-Four Favorites Defeated.

With a bumper attendance, excellent sport and a world of speculation, the metropolitan yesterday afterneon. The weather was mag-nificent, and long before the great crowd began to pour through the gates there was every indication of a revival in public interest. According to the officials of the Queens County Jockey Club, the crowd was a record breaker. While no official turnstile count was announced, it is not stretching the point a bit to nounced, it is not stretching the point a bit to say that fully 25,000 men and women saw the running of the feature event, the Carter Handicap, at seven furion.zs. In all the years that Aqueduct has served as the opener of the local racing campaign there has never been an overflow of spectators until yesterday. So great had the jam be-come in both grand stand and betting ring that shortly before the horses were called to the post for the Carter the Pinkertons were compelled to open a gate in the track rails opposite the betting ring, through which 5,000 enthusiasts rushed pell mell to secure much sought for vantage points. Even as the handicap candidates stepped gingerly out of the paddock a train from New York was unloading belated racegoers in bunches outside of the main entrance, and the way they hustled to the besting ring to get down their money showed the intense interest so preva-

It was pent up enthusiasm sure enough. The long winter, is seemed, had made the public hungry for a chance to see the horses and bet on them. The closing of the city peelrooms was ascribed as one reason for the wonderful outpowring, but more probably the sporting fever which at present appears to have infected the metropolis was the real cause for the multitudes presence

It was a day of reunions and renewed friend-hips, a day of bustle and excitement, a day of successful good things for a select few and also a day of unbounded rejoicing ecause of the superb victory of the public favorite in the chief event.

Sydney Paget's consistent four-year-old chesnut coit Ormonde's Eight, by Ormonde— Right, won the Carter in a way that made the vast army of speciators cheer themselves hoarse. Coupled with the six-year-old Goldsmith, once owned by the late W. C. old Goldsmith, once owned by the late w. C. Whitney, Ormonde's Right was liberally backed by the public at 4 to 1. He had been carefully prepared for the race by A. J. Joyner, as crafty a trainer as ever saddled a thoroughbred, and that was a sufficient guarantee that he was worthy of support. Willie Davis, the regular stable jockey, had the mount and to him as much as to anybody was the colt's were eighteen starters, five of the original field having been withdrawn. This was an unusual lot to go to the post for the Carter, and with all sorts of tips in the air the event as a betting proposition was de-cidedly open. For several days H. Gardner's Floral King, a high class performer on the winter tracks, had been handed around as a good thing, and falth in his prowess did not weaken, inasmuch as he was made the second choice at fives, lowered a point. Then there was E. E. Smathers's Rapid Water, shoulder-ing 122 pounds, who was in some favor at 6 to 1, with the Albemarle Stables' fast three year-old fillies, Santa Catalina and Bohemia. coupled and backed at 10 to 1, while 8 to 1 was offered against Joe Yeager's Leonidas, game little bulldog, who had the famous

Hildebrand on his back.

Many nibbled at James R. Keene's Sinister, an 8 to 1 shot, and others played Dave John-son's Roseben, a breadwinner for the noted plunger at both Hot Springs and Bennings, who was steady in the speculation at 10 to 1. M. L. Hayman's Orthodox and Peter Wimmer's Ocean Tide were also played at long odds, while the others went begging.

It was a clock when the bugle sounded the welcome notes and the brilliant silk Jackets of the riders were seen flashing in the sunlight as the racers came out of the little paddock a quarter of a mile below the grand stand. The parade had scarcely started when the crowd was in a hubbub. The betting ring was turned into a howling mob of men anxious to get their money down at the last moment.

af men anxious to get their money down at the last moment.

The grand stand, minus the betting commissioners, was packed so that the police refused to allow any more spectators to enter it. The lawn was black with humanity, tall men having an immense advantage over the short fellows, who stood on tiptoe and craned their necks in vain attempts to see. It did not take the horses long to get to the post over on the backstretch, where Mars Cassidy, the Jockey Club's official starter, stood ready with the barrier. It did not take Mr Cassidy long, either, to send the big field away to a fairly good start, and the moment the barrier went up with its accustomed jerk the well known cry, heard on every American racecourse, went

"They're off!"
Although the field broke in unison, there was an instantaneous jam, in which Floral King, the good thing, was crowded back in such a manner that he never had a chance after that to show his real worth. The same way he said of Leonidae State Cottains King, the good thing, was crowded back in such a manner that he never had a chance efter that to show his real worth. The same may be said of Leonidas, Santa Catalina, tooldsmith and others, whose chances were killed in the twinkling of an eye. But quick as a flash, Grover Cleveland Fuller, who had been watching Mr. Cassidy with an eye like an eagle's, maked Roseben to the front. With several cuts of the whip he got the big Ben Strome golding into a rapid stride, and was showing the way for the others before the first furlong pole was reached.

Close behind him came Rapid Water, with Lucien Lyne, who had broken quickly, too, and was travelling like the wind. Not a length separated these two pacemakers, while a short distance away was William Lakeland's Lattle Ein, a 20 to 1 shot, with Ormonde's Right fourth, in a nice position on the rail. The rest of the field was scattered all over the track, the swift pace ratiling some of the horses.

Around the far turn Roseben continued to lead by a short margin over Rapid Water, with Little Ein and Ormonde's Right always within striking distance. As far as this quartet was concerned it seemed then as if the race was over, except for the final placing, as the rest were struggling along in such a manner that it was long odds that none of them would get up.

A heavy gale was blowing straight up the bomestretch as the top of it was reached, and against it the leaders raced gamely. But Roseben, Rapid Water and Little Ein all swung wide. With cool headed alertness Willie Davis saw his chance then, and sitting down to ride with all his skill he rushed Ormonde's Right through on the inner rail.

Rapid Water had begun to tire because of the fast pace, and was dropping back, but Roseben, under Fuller's vigorous persuasion, was still travelling at top speed, never finching as he felt the gall. Still Ormonde's Right continued to gain, though Davis did not make a move to draw his whip. Opposite the betting ring the race had developed into dewn from tens to sixes.

The start was good and straightaway Right and True went to the front with a dazzling turn of speed. Close up in a bewildering bunch were Tim Hurst, King Pepper, Consideration and Tearress. It was anybody's race in the struggle down the stretch until Hildebrand shot Consideration to the front, taking the middle of the track for a drive that

SINTH BACE.

Racing at Memphis.

Mamphis, April 15.—John Smulski from the barn of Charley Ellison did the unexpected this afternoon at Montgomery Park, when he won the Hotel Gayoso Stakes in a heart breaking drive from Ivan the Terrible, the odds on favorite at 1 to 4. The latter led until turning into the backstretch when Phillips, who had the mount on Smulski, urged his horse to the front, winning by a bare nose. Only one favorite won.

First Race—Five and a half furlongs—Queen Rose, 101 (Aubuchon), 4½ to 1, won; Computation, 108 (Helgerson), 10 to 1, second; Itaska, 91 (Lannon), 108 (Helgerson), 10 to 1, second; Itaska, 91 (Lannon), Walsh, Irene Mac, Termagant, King Rose, Sadduce and March also ran.

Second Race—Four and a half furlongs—Hyperion II, 113 (Martin), 7 to 2, won; Rustling Silk, 110, (Trubel), 16 to 5, second; Meadow Breeze, 113 (Meintyre), 5½ to 1, third. Time, 0:56½, Abjure, and Jack Dolan also ran.

Third Race—Five and a half furlongs—J. Ed. (Fillo, 169), (160), but Roseben, under Fuller's vigorous perguasion, was still travelling at top speed, never flimching as he felt the gaff. Still Ormonde's Right continued to gain, though Davis did not make a move to draw his whip. Opposite the betting ring the race had developed into a duel, and the crowd, wild with excitement, urged both jockeys to do their best.

It was a ride for life! Fuller took one glance at Davis and redoubled his efforts, but in another rod Ormonde's Right had poked his nose to the front. Yet the end was not reached, for Roseben, game to the marrow, aprinted under the lash and regained his lost advantage for a moment. It was a dying effort, however, for Davis went at the Faset colt once more, and in a thrilling finish he passed the judges with three parts of a length over his big, sturdy rival.

Five lengths back came Little Em, under a sharp drive from Frank O'Neil, with Bohemis three parts of a length back and closing strong. Bohemis had run a reality grand race, for she was slow in getting away from the post, but responded to a plucky ride on the part of Harry Baird in the long run home. Sinister was not far away, with the others trailing home in a blinding dust cloud.
The time, 1:26 4.5, was remarkably fast, and was also a record for the race at the distance. Ormonde's Right, with 110 pounds, recelem Machania, Tot 2, won; Rusting Sik,

Action of the Wistercome and the

For the first time in many years there were no betting commissioners in the grand stand. The Aqueduct people, in response to a request from the Jockey Club, decided to do away with them entirely. The Pinkertons were not conspicuously in evidence, though many of them did business with old patrons in a quiet way. The crowd was so large that it was a difficult matter to detect them, but later on it is expected that they will experience hardships. Many of the women, who have been regular patrons for years, brought escorts who did their betting for them and in this way were not inconvenienced by the new rule which will be enforced at all of the Jockey Club tracks.

The selling races provided a couple of interesting incidents. Sydney Paget's Teacress, who was entered in the second race for $3,000, was claimed by W. F. Turpin, who had Miss Modesty in the event, for $3,470, When Bantam won the fifth race, for which he was entered to be sold for $500, "Kansas" Price, who always has a halter with him, ran the figures up to $1,700 and got the colt at that price.

Starter Cassidy was officially notified before For the first time in many years there the figures up to $1,700 and got the colt at that price.

Starter Cassidy was officially notified before the races that the Jockey Club wished to have him use the old "standing start" instead of the "walk up" system which he employed with much success at Hot Springs. Mr. Cassidy's work with the big fields was on the whole good, but it was evident that he wanted to have his own way. Incidentally "Pudden" McDaniel, James R. Keene's new lightweight jockey from Los Angeles, disobeyed Mr. Cassidy at the post to such a degree that he was suspended for a week.

In the afternoon Willie Shaw signed a contract to ride for Herman B. Duryea this year. Shaw had a short talk with Mr. Duryea in the paddock and an agreement was quickly reached. Hildebrand has not yet made terms with the Whitney stable, but it is believed the inafter will be patched up in a few days.

E. E. Smathers has signed Lyne to ride.

reached. Hidebrand has not yet made terms with the Whitney stable, but it is believed the matter will be patched up in a few days.

E. E. Smathers has signed Lyne to ride for him during the Aqueduct meeting and may renew the engagement if the jockey gives satisfaction. Mr. Smathers says that McChesney will not be seen in the East unless he shows something of his old form on the Western tracks. The best of his big string of two-year-olds will race here. Mr. Smathers regrets that Sam Hildreth did not secure a license from the Jockey Club, but states that he did not know that Hildreth had applied for one until he returned recently from a trip abroad.

C. J. Fitzgerald, the former starter, is acting as a steward with P. J. Dwyer and W. S. Vosburgh at Aqueduct. After the Carter handicap Mr. Fitzgerald said that he offered $5,000 for Ormonde's Right last fall in behalf of W. A. McGinnis of New Orleans, but that he was unable to close the deal.

August Belmont saw several of the races from the steward's stand. Other members of the Jockey Club were also on hand and were surprised at the size of the crowd. It was rumored that Louis Smith, the Jockey who was ruled off three years ago for an alleged poor ride on P. J. Dwyer's Merry Acrobat in the Rancho del Paso stakes at Morris Park, had been reinstated by the stewards. The jockey was not at the track, and Assistant Secretary Daingerfield said that no official action had been taken in his case. But that Smith will be restored to good standing in the near future there seems to be little room for doubt.

W. B. Leeds, who has heen racing in partnership with Andrew Miller, has retired temporarily from the turf becausefof a death in the family, and the stable will be soid at public auction next Saturday at Aqueduct. Major Daingerfield, Hurstbourne and other good horses are included in the lot.

Wille Gannon, who has been riding for L.V. Bell for several years, will sail for Australia soon to ride for a nobleman whose name he was unable to pronounce yesterday.

Many of the bookmakers who hurry to and from the track in automobiles struck a snag in Long Island City last night when the police refused to allow them to go on to the ferryboats ahead of the crowds that swarmed from the trains. Golf began for the season yesterday at the Richmond County Country Club with the first monthly handicap. It was for two classes, A and B, a prize being won outright in each set. Hereafter the two best men in each class will keep on at handicap match play for a cup, under the system introduced with success last year, but as the opening event it was deemed best to play under the old conditions to see how the men had kept on their game during the winter. Scratch men were first and second, which was a good sign. Williams won a sweep as well as the handicap prize in class A, and Woodruff won in class B. The scores:
